

March 2017

MODERN LUXURY
DC

LILY COLLINS
REWRITES THE RULES
ON BEING A STAR

HAIL, FABIO!
CHEF TRABOCCHI'S
LATEST HIT

PLUS
SARAH JESSICA PARKER'S
MONUMENTAL VISION
SPRING STAYCATIONS

SPRING FASHION & BEAUTY

BAGS BONANZA / ROYAL GARMENTS FOR MODERN TIMES / MUST-HAVES FOR THE SEASON / MAC'S LATEST COLLABS / TIPS
FROM LOCAL TASTEMAKERS & MORE

MODERNLUXURY.COM

FOOD & DRINK

SPIRITS

LADIES' NIGHT

In honor of Women's History Month, DC mixologists celebrate the female icons who inspire them—and cocktails that depict a ferocious spirit.

By Kelly Magyarics // Photography by Greg Powers

Left to right: Rachel Sergi, Megan Barnes, Sarah Ruiz and Sarah Rosner photographed at The Next Whisky Bar.

Rapture

Head bartender Rachel Sergi touts Debbie Harry as the epitome of style and cool. Her cocktail—the Blondie song that was the first rap video on MTV—also gives a nod to the punk artist's shock of platinum hair. It shakes Bowman bourbon with Calvados, yellow Chartreuse, lemon and apple bitters, swizzled over crushed ice and garnished with an apple fan. "Harry inspired me to be independent and question authority," Sergi says. $15, The Next Whisky Bar, 2650 Virginia Ave. NW, 202.827.1600, thewatergatehotel.com